

2010

With anglers from all over New Zealand competing the competition was intense, For the first time in the vent's history we have had a double winner

Wayne Radford of Mangawhai took out the Overall Snapper trophy with an 11.659kg and Shawn Eberly claimed the kingfish trophy a 15.365 kilo fish. Jock Mc Kenzie winged his way to Vanuatu Flying courtesy of Air Vanuatu, taken out the major prize for the Average Catch

The weather was not kind on the first day but this did not deter the anglers from delivering great catches although it did frustrate some. After a night off to recover day two dawned bringing with it fine weather allowing anglers to fish their desired fishing spots

Anglers are encouraged to mix and mingle as this is a great time to make new friendships as well as compare fishing notes. This event requires teams to have a good strategy as the tournament is structured to benefit all aspects of sport fishing from individual and team achievements. To get the best results you must weigh your best Snapper and Kingfish each day, this will ensure you are scoring points, after all this is a tournament that you need to be weighing fish in to win.

This event honours sportsmanship and fair play. If you have ever wondered what that could be like, then get your entry form and fill it out now.
